My name is Katy Kale and I am humbled to address you today as the Deputy Administrator and Acting Administrator of the General Services Administration. As a former GSA Chief of Staff, and more recently as the Biden-Harris Transition Agency Review Team lead, I know the critical importance of the agency's mission, but I know there is much more to learn. I look forward to meeting and hearing from many of you (virtually) in the weeks and months to come.

I am joined today by an exceptional group of appointees – and several more will be joining us in the days and weeks to come. We are committed to partnership and collaboration. We look forward to kicking off a listening tour to hear from all of you, which will include an agency-wide Virtual Town Hall on Thursday, January 28th. There, we can share more information about the Biden-Harris Administration priorities: beating the pandemic, tackling climate change, supporting the economic recovery, and combating racial injustice. As the Biden-Harris Administration begins taking immediate action to address these crises, we at GSA will be asked to play a key role in many of these actions. You can learn more about President Biden's values and commitment in his own words.

While we are all setting into our new positions, you will see that our incoming appointee team, myself included, will be fully, or nearly fully, virtual. We do not plan to change the teleworking policies that GSA has successfully adopted over the last year until it is safe to do so.

Please join me in welcoming the Biden-Harris appointee team to GSA:

Immediate Office of the Administrator

| Brett Prather, Chief of Staff
| Sonal Larsen, Senior Advisor (Climate)
| Jacky Chang, Senior Advisor (Technology)

Federal Acquisition Service

| Sonny Hashmi, Commissioner

| Dave Zvenyach, Deputy Commissioner for TTS and Director of the Technology Transformation Service

Office of General Counsel

| Nitin Shah, General Counsel
| Office of Congressional & Intergovernmental Affairs

| Gianelle Rivera, Associate Administrator
| Office of Strategic Communication

| Teresa Wykpisz-Lee, Associate Administrator

| Amy Chiou, Director of Public Engagement
| Office of Government-Wide Policy

| Krystal Brumfield, Associate Administrator

Thank you for your continued service and the dedication to the work that you do everyday.

Best,
Katy
